

Eldina Kožljak

Eldina Kožljak was born on January 21, 1997, in Sarajevo, where she entered the High School of Applied Arts at the department of Advertising Graphics. She graduated in 2016 in the class of professor Milijana Lagumdžija and received the title of art technician for advertising graphics. She then continued her education at the Academy of Fine Arts in Sarajevo, where she graduated on Printmaking department in the class of professor Avdo Žiga.

From 2012 until now, she has participated in many collective exhibitions. Along with printmaking, she also works with all other art mediums. Eldina bases her work mainly on depictions of the marine world and research into human psychology. She perceives the sea and all sea creatures as an unending inspiration that has resulted in numerous printmaking cycles.

In addition to her artistic career, she also works as an art educator and teacher. By teaching children and adults about fine arts, she develops and leads programs that include various aspects of artistic expression and creativity.